Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I know when I am there to know it. Now don't let them tell you it hasn't been hot here in California the past few weeks. Brother it's been roasting, and we haven't got the usual Alibi, "It's the humidity." We haven't even got any of that. Course it's been cool in the night. (That is fairly cool.) I am not going to be too big a liar just for the sake of the State. It's just been hot, that's all.

Say you know what we got out here besides the heat? Well it's a fish they call it Grunion (Not Grundy) Grunion. At a certain time of the day and year why it washes right up on the bank or beach rather. You can tell where I did all my early swimming. It's just a few inches long and pretty small even in a store.

Well people go to the beaches by the Ford's full and after a big wave come in when they make a dive and take these things with their hands. The funny part of it is, they know when it's going to happen just like an eclipse. The papers all announce it. Grunion will appear on such and such a beach at 9:43 Tuesday night. And you sure enough at 9:43 on said night, a wave come in and sure enough riding in was old man Grundy (I mean Grunion). Well everybody was a tackle or a halfback, they made a flying tackle at em, and when their heads were pried out of the sand, it was found that each hand held two and three ounces of Grunion. So you see California again will get the reputation of being the place to catch fish right out on the dry land, and the Rascals won't be lying, they will be telling the truth for the first time in years.

Humor is still rampant in the Senate. Here is the two latest amendments to the treaty:

"Freedom of the seas for all nations." That was originally suggested at the same time that other famous amendment was: "If your enemy strike you, turn the other cheek." Wars are won by starvation. How you going to starve anybody if everybody else feeds em?

The other gam of forlorn hope was: "England must give up the line of naval bases." I don't know how Senator McCallister overlooked Buckingham Palace in that demand.

If you think the Senate isn't funny, get this Norris resolution:

"If there has been any trickery about this London Treaty, and we find it out, no matter how old we are, we want to recall our signatures and call the treaty null and void."

Now, we don't know that there has been any trickery (that's what's worrying us) but if there has, (it Senate) want an alibi in case their whole thing don't turn out so good, but in case it is found that we have tricked the other nations and that the treaty is a fine thing, why this clause don't hold."

Well we have no monopoly on kicking on the Treaty. England and we got the best of it, that shows they have a sense of humor, and in Japan they are hollering their heads off, they say their Delegation didn't bring home enough ships. So if there is that much dissatisfaction, its like I have always preached, why hold these things? There is always more hatreds formed at any meeting than there is friendships, no matter what they agree to, they know they should have done better. The Nations in this world that get along and never have any trouble are the ones that never meet in conference at all.

I got a great scheme for universal peace: This United States of Europe that Briand is forming in Europe, with twenty nations in it, to be run like our forty-eight States are. Well, here is the scheme: have them adopt prohibition, and that will start em all arguing over it so much that it will get their minds off war. You can't fight and argue prohibition. You are useless for anything else on earth.

Been having a lot of trouble here lately getting some alfalfa to grow on my little patch of ground.

One span of gray mules don't look as well as they ought to, according to what they are eating. I never missed a pole of alfalfa as much in my life as I did in my game last Sunday. Seen a couple of mighty poor movies here lately.

But, as soon as the market picks up, you watch these mules go, and this grass grow and pictures improve.

I tell you, its the stock market crash last Fall that did it.

GRAYLING PEOPLE MEET WITH ACCIDENT

MRS. T. BOESON SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. T. Boeson lies in a hospital in Howard City in a serious condition as the result of injuries received in an auto accident that occurred Monday forenoon.

The accident happened while Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sorenson and Mrs. Boeson were returning home from a Danish convention that they had been attending at Grant Michigan. When about seven miles out of Howard City, one of the rear tires of the Sorenson car was punctured, making the car swerve, and striking a tree. Mrs. Boeson was thrown out of the car landing on her head, receiving a deep scalp wound in which it was necessary to take 27 stitches to close. She also received an injury to one of her shoulders. Mrs. Sorenson received a bruise near one of her eyes and slight injuries to one of her arms, while Mr. Sorenson was uninjured.

Mrs. Louis Herbison and son Robert are at the bedside of Mrs. Boeson in Howard City. Mr. Herbison who accompanied them Monday night returning Tuesday. Mrs. Boeson's many Grayling friends hope for a speedy recovery and return home.

500,000 CHILDREN GET FREE TICKETS TO STATE FAIR

The Michigan State Fair management will distribute 500,000 tickets and coupons to school children, newsboys and orphans in the state entitling them to free admission to Michigan's Greatest Outdoor Event on Children's Day, Tuesday, September 2.

One hundred thousand coupons will be printed in the Fair's advertisements in newspapers during the summer. These coupons will be placed so as to afford the widest and fairest distribution possible. Four hundred thousand tickets will be given to boys and girls in the Detroit area, where the largest crowds are anticipated.

These passes not only will admit children to all major attractions and exhibits, but also will enable them to enjoy all "Midway" shows, rides, ice cream, sandwiches and soft drinks by paying only five cents for each.

An entertaining program has been arranged for Children's Day. The Boys' and Girls' Club Contest, always of vital interest to children throughout the state, will be held in the morning. In the afternoon the Boys' Milking Contest will be staged in the Coliseum. The afternoon program also includes harness horse races on a mile track and that spectacle of spectacles, The Stampede, in which Indians and cowboys match their skill in thrilling tests with each other and with the wildest bronchos and steers in captivity. There will be music throughout the day, and an elaborate fireworks display at night.

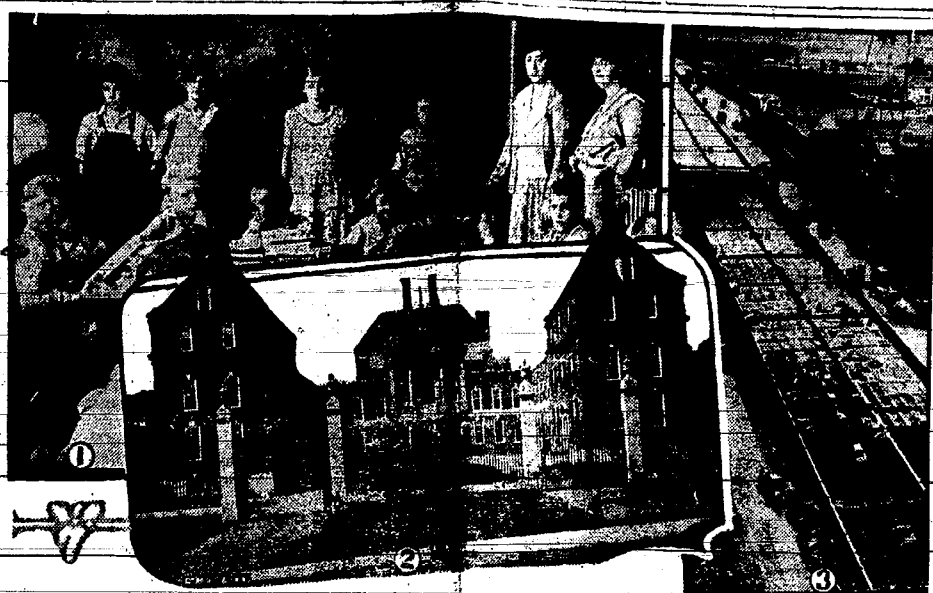

The State Fair celebrates its eighty-first anniversary this year. It will open Sunday, August 31, and run to September 6. The feature of opening day will be a sacred concert by the Graceland famous concert band in the Coliseum.

Monday has been designated as "Labor Day," Tuesday, "Children's Day," Wednesday, "Governor's Day," Thursday, "Farmer's Day," Friday, "Detroit Day," and Saturday, "Automobile Day."

E. M. WATER CARNIVAL STARTS TODAY

70 GIRLS TO COMPETE FOR BEAUTY HONORS

The long looked for event of the second annual Eastern Michigan Water Carnival at Bay City begins today, featuring a monster street parade of floats, a beauty contest between about 70 girls selected from many cities in Eastern Michigan, motorboat regatta, swimming races, swimming and diving exhibitions, queens' ball and many other interesting events.

The carnival committee prophesies that there will be 150,000 visitors in Bay City this week to enjoy the monster program that is in store for them during the three days—July 31 to Aug. 2nd.

Grayling to Have Float Many cities in Eastern Michigan will have a float in the parade Thursday afternoon and Grayling isn't going to be among the absent ones. Our fair city will be represented by a fifty-foot float which will be decorated up appropriate with the spirit of this community.

Also in the parade a 119th Field Artillery truck will carry its 37-piece band, and on the sides of the truck will appear banners saying "Hanson State Military Reservation, Grayling, Mich."

Miss Edith Bidvia, as "Miss Grayling" will be prominent on the float, occupying the throne of honor. She will be surrounded by a court of other beautiful girls chosen because of their outstanding beauty and representing their own home towns, as follows: Rosalie Stammer, as "Miss Frederic"; Miss Ethel Beckford as "Miss Roscommon"; and Miss Lovina Wright as "Miss Lewiston." Besides these there will be other attractive young ladies on the Grayling float. And besides there will be the Grayling band, all in new and attractive uniforms. All will occupy the Grayling float and there is no doubt but that this float is going to be one of the finest in the monster parade.

Mrs. Clarence Clippert, Mrs. Herbert Wolff and Mrs. Esbern Hanson have been assisting Miss Bidvia in the preparation for this trip and it goes without saying that "Miss Grayling" is going to be one of the best August 7 and 8 from Roscommon "Queens" program. Mrs. O. P. Schumann will accompany Miss Bidvia as chaperone. Miss Stammer will be chaperoned by Mrs. Jess Green of Michigan Tuberculosis Association, properly chaperoned by some "lady" which conducts clinics throughout the state with funds from the annual sale from Lewiston.

We doubt if there will be a single tuberculous Christmas seal.

DRAKE APPOINTED AGR. CULTURAL AGENT

WILL SUCCEED A. C. LYTLE TO OTSEGO COUNTY POSITION

L. L. Drake who for the past five years has been district agricultural agent for Michigan State college, working in cooperation with the Northeast Michigan Development bureau, will take the post of agricultural agent for Otsego county. Opening his office at Gaylord, he began his new duties Wednesday, July 16.

A. C. Lytle, agricultural agent for Otsego county since 1919, goes to the certified seed department of the Michigan Potato Growers' exchange, with headquarters at Cadillac.

General promotion of Agriculture throughout the territory covered by the development bureau has been Mr. Drake's principle duty. He said that his greatest achievement in the five years he has been here is the establishment of county agents in seven of the 11 counties in the district which had none.

The counties in which he has been instrumental in establishing agricultural agents are Bay, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Alcona, Montmorency, Arenac, and Gladwin.

In addition to the promotion of agricultural agencies, he has stressed the desirability of increased alfalfa acreage, has carried on a pure bred dairy sire campaign, and has stressed the importance of sheep raising and beef producing. Mr. Drake was the father of the idea of roadside planting for reforestation work, and the program which he conceived will have its start with the planting of the River road between Bay City and Saginaw.

Views of Camp Daggett

A group picture of scenes of Camp Daggett near Petoskey is on exhibition in the postoffice.

Besides showing pictures of the lake, club house and general scenes about the place, there are a number of group pictures showing the boys and girls in camp in general assembly and engaged in various activities.

This camp has proved a blessing to some of the young boys and girls of Northern Michigan. The expense has been small and many families have taken advantage of giving their young people a two-weeks outing, and under the care and direction of the highest type of executives.

One more camp is planned for this summer and anyone interested may write Walter G. Spill, Sec'y., Petoskey, Mich.

INTERLOCHEN BOWL CONCERTS FOR SUNDAY, AUGUST 3, FEATURE TWO GUEST CONDUCTORS

On Sunday afternoon, August 3, the National High School Orchestra will have as its guest conductor Edgar Stillman-Kelley, the dean of American composers. Dr. Stillman-Kelley, besides writing many fine compositions for orchestra, has become quite famous because of his musical setting to the Pilgrim's Progress, which is considered a choral masterpiece. The New World Symphony by Dvorak and the Overture to Tannhauser are two of the numbers on the program which appeal to most music lovers.

The regular broadcast is from seven to eight P. M., Central Standard Time, over the Columbia Chain. You will hear the Band, the Chorus, and the Orchestra broadcast direct from the Bowl at Interlochen. There will also be soloists to entertain you.

At eight P. M., Central Standard Time, there will be a full Band program with A. R. McAllister as guest conductor. Mr. McAllister is best remembered as being the director of the Juliet High School Band which for three years won the National Band Contest. Mr. McAllister, also, was last summer's director of the Bowl.

Interesting compositions on this Band program, there will be three University of Michigan marches, "Victors," "The Yellow and the Blue," and the "Varsity," so all lovers of the Michigan college spirit will do well to attend this concert.

Last Sunday, in spite of the extremely hot weather, the program at Interlochen Bowl had a record attendance. Fully 5,000 listened to the wonderful musical program presented by the National High school orchestra, at which time Lt. Commander John Philip Sousa was the guest conductor.

The work of these young high school musicians was a revelation to the audience and must have added a thrill to even such a veteran conductor as Mr. Sousa. For the close of the program Mr. Sousa conducted the band in a group of his world famous marches.

If any of our Grayling people haven't attended one of these programs of the National High School orchestra, we suggest that they do so. Take trunk line highway M-76 to Kalkaska and Traverse City. Interlochen is 14 miles out of Traverse City and easy to reach. The admission price to the entertainment is 50c. The members of the orchestra band number nearly 300 boys and girls of school age, and represent schools of 34 states, District of Columbia, and Honolulu, and are the pick of the musical talent of the schools of all.

A splendid program is offered for next Sunday afternoon and evening. We are not informed as to whether this will be the last one for the season or not.

TEAMSTER KILLED BY STATE TRUCK

Reuben Halliday, 44 years, a Grayling teamster working for the State Highway department was killed last Friday when a State Highway truck driven by George King ran into him about three miles south of Grayling.

According to reports Halliday was in front of the team and about to back them off the highway, near the foot of a hill, when the truck driven by King was coming down the hill. The latter says that he applied the brakes but that they did not take hold very well, and in his attempt to avoid hitting the teamster drove the truck half-way off the pavement. It appears that the end of the truck struck the teamster, knocking him down and the wheel passing over his head. The latter died before reaching the hospital.

Reports say that King did not stop to assist the injured man, and he claims that he brot the truck to a stop within fifty feet of the accident but that he then drove on to the asphalt plant to notify his foreman of the accident.

Saturday morning a coroner's examination was held at which time a number of workmen employed on grading the shoulders of the highway testified that the accident was unavoidable and King was exonerated from all blame.

Reuben Halliday moved to Grayling from Fredonia last spring where he accepted a position with the State Highway department where he had been working ever since. Funeral services were held Monday, Rev. Martin Maxwell officiating. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery. He is survived by his widow and two children; four brothers and two sisters.

SENATOR ACHARD NOT A CANDIDATE

Senator Tony Achard of Clare decided that he would not be a candidate for re-election. In explaining his reason for not running for the second term he writes in the Clare Sentinel:

"The only honest explanation I can give is the fact that in the conduct of my personal financial affairs I have made serious and grave mistakes; am fully conscious of the effect this may have created within the minds of many; and in view of these circumstances, could not decently attempt to impose upon the good nature of my friends, or zestfully wage war against my political enemies until such time as I might prove able to vindicate myself in the eyes of all."

That leaves the field open to Laurin J. Budge of Beaverton; Herman Butler of East Tawas; Roxburgh of Reed City and Carpenter. May the best man win. We know that Butler and Budge are live getters; know nothing about Carpenter and practically all we know of Roxburgh is that he is a consistent candidate but never seems to get elected.

The American capitalists who are equipping manufacturing plants and mechanized farms in Soviet Russia are not a new type of business man. There were the border traders who sold guns and whiskey to the Indians.

ERNEST VAN PATTEN BUYS AIR PLANE

Ernest Van Patten is proud to be the owner of a brand new Monocoupe plane, Lambert Model, which the Mono Aircraft Corporation of Salsine, Illinois, delivered to him the latter part of the week. It is the first plane to be purchased in Grayling and may be seen at the Grayling airport where Mr. Van Patten takes off each day with Lieutenant Mitchell of Pontiac, an able instructor of aviation. The plane is of a cream and black color and bears the number NC516U. Mr. Van Patten contemplates building a hangar for his plane as soon as he can find a suitable location. He states he purchased the plane for his own personal use and for the purpose of seeing the country from the air. The owner of the plane is employed at the Kury & Hanson flooring company as engineer.

ANOTHER WENDALL HALL IN-NOVATION ON SHELL PRO-GRAM"At the Sign of the Shell" program
of August 4th will present another Wendall Hall innovation "The Chatter Style of vocal rendition." Hall will sing "Tellin' The Birds, Tellin' The Bees" adapting it to his modern "chatter style."In 1929 Wendall Hall introduced to the vocal radio and record work the "bloody-bloody" that were "squealed" into the "fill-ins" or "breaks" of the popular song. A little later, Ukelele Ike, Johnny Marvin, Phil
Cook, and a score of others imitated and improved upon this original idea
by making more peculiar and more kinds of various throat noises. Soon the public took it up and we find the first step in "vocal orchestral arrangement effect." Then came the Revelers Quartet with their wonderful vocal arrangement creations.
Their "fill-ins" were partly vocal squeals and partly words, and one could not help but notice how much like a modern orchestration their vocal arrangements were. El. Small and Frank Black developed this new style for the Revelers, and it was taken up by quartets and trios
throughout the country for the second step in "song presentation." Then came Helen Kane who started the whole country "boop-a-doop-dooping"
"Tepinabee, and Pellston will be poster for still another step in the growth of "vocal orchestration."Not to be outdone, Wendall Hall for-developed another progressive step.
Come and bring your friends. Remember the date and hours—Sunday, August 3, from 2 to 5 p. m. fast time. In the song "Tellin' The Birds, Tellin' The Bees," above all you will note the distinctive feature of "doubling-up" the chorus lyrics—that would get enough exercise from logging, the introduction of additional descriptive lyric rhymes so as to produce a melodious, swingy jingle which

FIFTH ANNUAL CLUB CAMP
OPENS MONDAYDedication Tuesday Night Promises To Bring Out Largest Emcampment On RecordThe fifth annual encampment of toys and girls of northern Michigan, who are doing 4-H Club work, will open next Monday morning for a five day session, which is filled to the brim with exhibits, demonstrations, singing contests, athletics—in fact everything necessary to make it a week of keen delight to northern Michigan boys and girls, who believe in agricultural work as a life vocation and are trying to get all the points necessary to make them successful men and women.For four years this club camp has been organized. The first year there were less than 200 boys and girls present. This has gradually increased and last year there were more than 400 registered. It is expected that the registrations will exceed that number this year. But there is plenty of room. The boys' dormitory as well as the one for the girls, will each accommodate 300, while the dining room will seat nearly 1,000 people.The State Club Department has arranged for some of the best boys and girls—leaders—obtainable, and through the club weeks in previous years have been wonderful, the one this year is expected to be much better.Every morning there will be the camp fire programs which are impressive and interesting. The Camp is always divided up into tribes, usually four. These tribes all have names of famous Indian tribes, and the competition developing among them is one of the finest evidencesof the clean young manhood and womanhood who attend the camp,
and the lessons learned in cleanness, health, sportsmanship and right living in every way, remains with the members throughout their life.The dedication ceremony will be the big event of the year. This takes place at 7:30 in the evening, fast time. The program will be found elsewhere. At this time Governor Fred W. Green will be present to dedicate the three buildings. These buildings will be named Campbell
Lodge in honor of Senator Calvin Campbell; Lundin Hall, in honor of the late Herman Lundin, and Ming Hall in honor of Fred Ming, state representative. At the same time the official dedication of the entire camp
as Camp Gay-Gug-Lum will take place.Among those from outside who will take part in the programs are Senators C. A. Campbell, of Indian River, Chester M. Howell of Saginaw, and John L. Galster of Petoskey. At that time State representatives will be Speakers Fred B. Mink, Cheboygan; Alonzo Green, Hillsdale; William Green,
Roscona City; Miles Calahan, Reed
City; Earl McNitt, Cadillac; Lewis
Anderson, Northport; Ned Sargeant, Levering, and William Yonkey, Saginaw.This service is open to the public,
as is all the activities of the camp,
and it is hoped that every community
in this section will be represented so that all may know of what a wonderful place it is for children of this section of the state.The many contests will also be of interest to northern Michigan, for the judging teams and demonstration teams who will attend the State Fair in Detroit, will be chosen at that time. These young people, at that time, will be guests of Michigan.The health boy and girl champion is also picked, who will represent northern Michigan at the State Fair.
In the past five years northern Michigan has had two health champions
who have attended the national 4-H congress at Chicago as Michigan representatives.Northern Michigan has taken the lion's share of honors in boys' and girls club work for the state, every year since the club camp has been organized.The general invitation extended by the state club department is for everyone in this part of the state whether they have boys and girls in the camp or not. The department wants the people of this section to know what is being done for the future welfare and success of the future citizens, and how it is equipping them with first hand business and practical knowledge of agriculture. Come any day. Go to the registration office and some of the club leaders will be there to meet you and pilot you around. This camp is for adults as well as children. Take advantage of it.LITTLE TO FEAR FROM TARIFF REPRISALThe latest threat of French reprisal
for the new American tariff law, which after repeated increases in French tariffs in recent years, hoists
the tariff on French exports to the United States all of three per cent
comes from the head of the French Dressmakers Syndicate, who says the way to meet the situation is to plant French industries in the United States and train American workers to French methods—all but the low wage part of them.With French capital invested in American industries, we will have the workmen as consumers as well as producers. Their standard of living will be our own, which will remove the menace of cheap-labor competition.The "increasing cost of living"
cry will now have to be placed away
in moth balls and saved for the next tariff battle ten years hence. It proved to be a bloomer eight years ago when a protective tariff measure was passed and it will be a bloomer again. If commodity prices stiffen it will only be because business is reviving and the people are back at work and consuming again. The new tariff will doubtless help bring the condition about but no free trader will at that time be found who will be willing to give it any credit.

where she is receiving treatment for eye trouble from a specialist.Frank Bell, whom the older residents of Grayling were no doubt well acquainted with, spent a few days this week in our city. It has been forty years since Mr. Bell has been here and he finds only a few who remember him and also finds many changes in Grayling since leaving. He is now Circuit Judge at Negaunee, Michigan.The 119th Field Artillery band of 27 pieces will take part in the Water Carnival parade at Bay City today and on each side of their truck there will be a large banner saying "Hanson
State Military Reservation, Grayling,
Mich." Thus Grayling will again profit in a publicity way because of the assistance from our military friends. Thanks, fellows.The members of the Grayling band are happy and proud over their new uniforms and will wear them for the first time at the Water Carnival at Bay City. They are marine blue in color with a light blue stripe on the trousers and on the sleeves, and have bronze buttons and black Sam Brown belt and cap to match. There are 26 members in the band and now can put up a nifty appearance as well as render excellent music.The Montmorency County Savings bank at Hillman was robbed Tuesday forenoon, the thugs who are believed to be Detroit gangsters getting away with $8,000 in cash and $7,000 in bonds. The job was pulled off in a peculiar manner, the two robbers in a small car driving to the home of William F. Nargrath, cashier and telling him they wanted to talk over a land deal. When he went to the car they covered him with revolvers made him get into the car, drive to the bank and open the safe. While the robbery was in progress William Stout, a customer, entered and the bandits looked both Nargrath and Stout in the vault. State police, sheriffs, officers and members of the American Legion, all of that vicinity have joined in the hunt, but as yet no trace of the fugitives has been found.Henry A. Bauman resigned from member of the board of trustees of Grayling school last Tuesday night,
after having served in that capacity
for about a quarter of a century.
During that time he served as treasurer for about ten years. His resignation was accepted with much reluctance by the other members of the board. G. F. McNamara was elected by the board to fill the vacancy. The public owes Mr. Bauman a lot of sincere gratitude and thanks for the long years of service he has rendered on the board. During the time of building the new school he helped in responsibility of planning the financing of the institution and gave the service a lot of expert and valuable advice. He has been the "watch-dog" of the school and in competent and reliable hands.

MANY SIGNS MUTILATED

Because many persons thoughtlessly use the road and trail signs in the national forests as targets, carve their initials in the signs, or otherwise mutilate them, the Forest Service is put to extra expense in main-aining its signs and markers for the benefit of the public. A survey on the eastern national forests showed many as 10 per cent of the signs mutilated in one forest two years after they had been erected.This is a sensible suggestion. By just such methods foreign countries have brought about the export of two thousand American industrial plants,
which with their cheap labor advantages, now want freer access to the American high wage market. By just such a method, high tariffs, Australia has tolled $200,000,000 of American capital to Australia.

And it is to be noted, too, that the stories of how the tariff would immediately increase the cost of living are about as close to facts as the re-surrex stories. Remember the tales you were hearing and the pathetic speeches made in Congress not long since, about how many millions the increase in the sugar tariff would load on to the poor housewives of America? Well only the other day the price of sugar sank to the lowest level in a hundred years.

TOPE OF CONSERVATIVE OPTIMISM NOW EXPRESSED IN MANY QUARTERS

(By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.)

It has been noted within the last two or three weeks that individuals, groups and organizations are more closely in touch with the general business situation of the country than expressed themselves in terms of optimism.

To say the least, there has come recently quite a change in feeling regarding the business outlook.

It is to be hoped that this feeling of conservative optimism will steadily spread throughout the country and cause a more confident attitude upon the part of everyone who prove a helpful influence in bringing conditions back to normal.

One of the encouraging factors in the present situation is that deposits in savings banks have been constantly growing. This means great potential prosperity. Regardless of what may be the outlook for the prosperity of a nation really must depend upon the thrift of the people. An orgy of ill-advised spending might bring great activity and apparent prosperity for a while but it would only be a flash in the pan. It would soon come to an abrupt end. Whereas a nation whose citizens are constantly getting ahead and putting something away for emergencies is bound to enjoy prosperous conditions. There are ways out of course, but periods of temporary depression such as we have been passing through during the last few months but the sunshine of prosperity can always be depended upon when people are thrifty.

If present conditions were such as to indicate that during the next few months the people of this country have been dissipating their resources and expending in habits of wastefulness, the outlook at the present time could not be viewed with so much equanimity.

The present sentiments of optimism and hopefulness which seem now to be steadily spreading throughout the nation may be true forerunners of great prosperity. Perhaps they may or may not be somewhat premature. But the fact remains that so long as the American people remain true to practices of thrift, the return of prosperity cannot be long delayed.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES
OF THE AVALANCHE OF 15 YEA-23 AGO.

Thursday, August 1, 1907

Mrs. A. Kraus returned from Saginaw last Friday, apparently cured, which is gratifying to her friends here.

Mon. Charles Blair, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court has one of the finest cottages at Portage Lake nearly completed.

Mrs. F. L. Michelson and the boy were visiting with "grandpa" all last week and Frank came down last Saturday to visit with the crowd over Sunday.

Mrs. Adelbert Pond and Miss Goldie will enjoy the next three weeks in eastern and central New York visiting with relatives and old time friends.

M. A. Bates has a neat cottage at Portage nearly completed and there are a number of new ones well under way, more elaborate than any before erected there.

Mrs. Wm. Brink with Mrs. Dr. Niles, Mrs. O. Palmer and Mrs. H. E. Barlow and Miss Barlow of Chicago, are enjoying the week at the Brink cottage on the west side of Portage Lake.

The Johannesburg Mfg. Co., have got the lead of the world in the matter of trunk slats. They have the best of elm timber and machinery particularly made for the work. They have recently shipped carloads to San Francisco, Minneapolis, Philadelphia and Boston and are receiving orders from all the leading trunk makers in the United States.

Huckleberries are coming into market quite freely but will not be prime before another week.

Hay is nearly over and the wheat and oat harvest about ready. Hay is light, wheat is prime and oats good except where injured by the drip.

As we go to press, Wednesday, we learn of the sudden death of Erastus Purchase, during the night, but have no particulars of his demise.

Chief Shoppenagons has posed as a hero for the past week, at the great "Home Coming" at Owosso, where his father lived for many years at the head of the tribe, before the site for the present city was known to the whites. "Shop" was the observed of all.

FORD PLANT VISITED BY UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL PARTY

The famous process by which hundreds of pieces of steel, aluminum, wire, wood, leather and glass are gradually added to one another along a long moving assembly line, and finally chug off as a complete automobile in the space of an hour, was observed and marveled at by a party of over one hundred Summer Session students from the University of Michigan which recently inspected one of the great automobile plants in Detroit. The excursion was one of a series conducted by the Summer School to places of interest and importance about Ann Arbor.

The immense size, order and cleanliness of the plant, as well as the steady, smooth progress of the assembly system seemed to impress the visitors. "As inevitable as the working of Fate," one of the observers was heard to muse as the completed car sped out of the factory under its own power. The younger feminine members of the party were less awestruck, but evidently delighted and surprised to see the parts they had watched being put together actually start and hum away. Another favored spot was the reclamation furnaces where ancient and battered cars come to their "journey's end" at huge ramps which cram them whole into the melting pots.

Other excursions scheduled will include: the Ford Airport; the Detroit Art Institute, Public Library, and Detroit News and WWJ; Niagara Falls and vicinity; General Motors Proving Ground; and a trip to Put-In-Bay. The tour was under the direction of Carlton Wells, Secretary of the Summer Session, Professor William H. Hobbs of the Geology Department, and other faculty members.

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body must have every day to function properly purifying your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual fermentation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts. Take a half teaspoon every morning in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before, years younger, more energy. You'll possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart. As the bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at the New & Old Drug Store or any progressive druggist in America. Beware! If Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

Farm Notes

Farm Fires
To decrease the huge loss from farm fires which destroy about 3,500 lives and $100,000,000 worth of property annually, the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils is studying causes and methods of prevention. The principal causes of farm fires, says the bureau, are spontaneous ignition of hay, grain, feeds, and other products, lightning, defective chimneys and heating apparatus, sparks on combustible roofs, careless handling of matches, and gasoline or kerosene, and faulty wiring or improper use of electrical appliances.

Apple Storage Hints
Low temperature and prompt cooling of apples are of prime importance in preventing development of the scald disease in storage or in the market, says the Bureau of Plant Industry. Wrapping apples in oiled paper will prevent scald, and storing the fruit in dampers, ventilated barrels or baskets lessens the chances of scald injury. Susceptibility to scald varies with the variety, and seasons and orchard conditions. Early picked and poorly colored fruit is extremely susceptible to scald, while well-colored, well-matured apples are more resistant.

Lead chestnutwood loses its tannin content so slowly that it is possible to extract tannin from native chestnut trees for 30 years after their death.

The possibilities in fur farming as a business enterprise are illustrated, according to the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, by the fact that of all the silverfox pelts sold on the raw-fur markets today, more than 98 per cent are from ranch-bred foxes.

If your sheep, calves, or pigs have a husky cough at this time of year, look out for lung-worms. Isolate infected animals and give them special care and feed. Put the animals on high, dry pasture, or put them up and feed dry feed. Give plenty of pure water and provide them with some kind of shade.

In the summer, high-producing dairy cows need grain to supplement the pasture. Cows giving more than 20 pounds of milk a day should have, in addition to good pasture, 1 pound of grain to each 4 to 6 pounds of milk produced. The grain mixture, which may be corn, oat, wheat, bran or barley, should be ground. For cows producing more than 35 pounds of milk, there should be at least one high-protein concentrate, linseed oil meal or cottonseed meal, in the grain ration.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture several years ago experimented with commercial fertilizers to discover a substance that will kill fly larvae in manure and also increase its fertilizing value. One-half pound each of calcium cyanamide and acid phosphate added to each bushel of manure gave a 98 per cent kill of the larvae. The mixture, in powder form, is scattered evenly over the surface and wet down with water. This mixture adds to the manure two important elements, nitrogen and phosphorus.

It is always preferable to build a concrete feeding floor where the soil drainage is good but if this is impracticable, a porous sub-base or cushion of cinders, sand, or fine gravel should be laid. This will prevent heaving caused by frost and unequal settling when the ground is wet. When a sub-base is placed on stiff clay soils, drainage outlets should be installed to carry off any water which may collect under the floor and cause injury by freezing.

Young pullets are very sensitive and need regular treatment and careful handling. Free range or clean soil and plenty of green feed and shade are essential to good growth. Avoid disturbing pullets or moving them to new quarters in the growing season. The addition of lime to lead-arsenate sprays for apple trees will prevent arsenical injury when the fruit is washed. If abundant fresh water is not available for rinsing, injury from soluble arsenic can be avoided by a lime-water rinse. Medicated salts are of no value whatever in protecting livestock against flies, says the U. S. Bureau of Entomology. Some of these salts—most of them containing sulphur and common salt—have been put on the market with the claim that they will protect stock from flies.

With the expansion of the soybean industry, poultrymen have a new feed—soybean meal—that could well be more than a little, according to poultry specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Soybean meal is valuable as a protein supplement for growth and egg production. The addition of a mineral mixture increases the value of the soybean meal.

Pasture is valuable for hogs but for best results should not be grazed too closely. Put in any one lot as many hogs as can get abundant feed. Ordinarily an acre will furnish pasture for from 5 to 15 hogs averaging 100 pounds. It is a good plan to have two pastures and alternate them; then they can be grazed fairly close and will still provide good succulent feed. Pasture crops that are allowed to mature do not furnish good feed for hogs.

Disposal or proper stacking of straw is a very important step in controlling the stable fly, one of the worst pests of livestock throughout the country. Straw stacks are the principal breeding places of this pest, especially in

Quake, Gale, Tidal Wave
American Building Ideas
Not Elephants, Microbes
She Shot the Wife

Already weakened, partly demolished by terrible earthquake shocks, many houses, palaces and churches in Naples were leveled by a severe gale, adding to the terror and loss of life. Then came a tidal wave driven by the gale.

After repeated earthquake shocks, with Vesuvius blazing menacingly in the background, a hurricane sweeping the city, thousands injured, two thousand dead, no wonder the people are frightened.

The appalling extent of Italy's disaster is due to the fact that in building even small dwellings, walls and floors are nearly all made of stone, roofs of heavy tiles. Earthquakes causing even slight disturbance, separating walls, allow heavy stone floors and tiled roofs to fall through, killing the inmates.

It is believed that Mussolini will order dwellings rebuilt of reinforced concrete. Ordinary steel framing is too expensive; lumber, scarce in Italy, is too perishable to suit Italians.

McClintic-Marshall, an American concern, erecting the great bridge across the Hudson river, has devised a method of steel construction, extremely light, little more expensive than wood. Mussolini should investigate that.

In ancient days men gathered to watch elephants, tigers, bears, rhinoceroses and other gigantic animals fight each other or fight gladiators. All interest centered on the big enemies of mankind.

Rembrandt painted a most interesting scientific picture of an elephant, with its queerly made knees and deep wrinkles. He never heard of a microbe.

Today human intelligence is concentrated on enemies too small to be seen; far deadlier than any poisonous snake or ferocious tiger.

Dr. Thomas F. Rivers of the Rockefeller foundation showed a gathering of scientists in Paris slides, explaining experiments with psittacosis, or parrot disease. And Doctor Pfeiffer, learned German, discussed on the "Pfeiffer bacillus" known to cause certain forms of influenza.

The germs discussed are so small they pass through porcelain filters. No microscope is powerful enough to reveal them. Science is not even able to explain how the germ offsprings or psittacosis, after years of harmless inactivity, can suddenly spread world-wide, creating havoc in a few months.

Calvin Coolidge wrote a history of the United States in 500 words to be engraved on a mountain in South Dakota. Mr. Longmire, sculptor, carrying the mountain, changed the text. Mr. Coolidge disowned it and will probably write another.

You feel as though you had read of Moses coming down from the mountain with the Ten Commandments; and Longmire changing the wording, possibly leaving out the word "not."

Lady Owen, in Paris, rich, titled woman fell in love with Doctor Gastaud. He, she says, empoisoned until she lost him to the dance. Then he stopped re-breathing, went back to his wife and only the vernacular describes it—gave Lady Owen "the air."

Lady Owen thereupon shot the wife, Miss Gastaud, three times, principally in the stomach.

Smoking gold-tipped cigarettes rapidly, Lady Owen expressed indignation surprise when the police refused to set her free. Who can read the heart of woman?

Why shoot the poor wife instead of shooting the "air giver?"

All through the ages women have protected men and named each other.

Dr. James Earle How, lifelong friend of poor men, is dead of starvation, leaving behind $1,000,000. He believed that abstention from food could cure anything. His theory cost him his life.

His money is left to help the most unfortunate class of unemployed, the "holers," whose friend he had always been.

The good example of sympathy is worth $1,000,000, wisely spent or otherwise. But $5,000 spent on ambitious youth might do more for the poor than $1,000,000 spent on confessed failures.

Doctor Wood, head of the Crocker Cancer Research Institute, announces the successful growing of cancer cells in a glass tube.

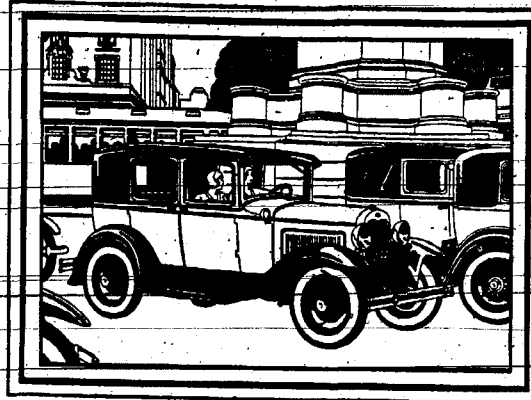

That they are genuine cancer cells is known because, transplanted in the bodies of rats, they produce cancer. For 3,000 years, Doctor Wood says, men have "worked with dead cancer cells." Now, for the first time, we have them alive and capable of producing human cancer.

The announcement is important. To hold and study your enemy is a great advantage.

The grain belt. Straw to be kept for bedding or food should be very carefully stacked. Make the sides of the stack nearly vertical and round the top well to shed rain. After the straw is stacked, clean up loose straw or chaff and burn it. Straw not needed in the winter should be disposed of immediately after threshing. Plow it under or burn it. Surplus straw should be disposed of in early spring or it will furnish flies continually in spring and summer.

Meeting the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business—design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.

A better way of making axleshafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankshafts reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.

All of these things are done in the interest of the public—so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

STANDING BY—

Ex-President Coolidge pleads for united support in the nation for President Hoover, whom he says is the president of all the people and who should have our combined efforts in the great task of returning this nation to its former prosperous condition.

This is sensible advice from a sensible man. President Wilson beheld an united country when civilization was being threatened. In no less measure does President Hoover need this same universal assistance when the industrial structures of the nation are in danger.

We are all in the same boat—we sink or swim together—there is no separation of the sheep from the goats. The man who talks disparagingly of the future is tying the millstone around his neighbor's neck as well as his own.

If most of our troubles are sociological we gain nothing by standing apart from the multitude and filling the air with our own lamentations. Let everybody stand girded for the battle—and learn to fight as a single unit for the things that the nation needs.

HINTS FOR THE COLD MEAT PLATTER

Perhaps there is no more attractive main dish for the summer dinner than a tastefully garnished platter of cold cuts. The department of home economics, National Live Stock and Meat Board, offers these ideas for using cold cuts as a means of easy meal preparation.

A boned shoulder of lamb, roasted, is ideal for slicing. To give it a certain piquancy, the lamb may be rubbed with a bruised clove of garlic before putting in the pan.

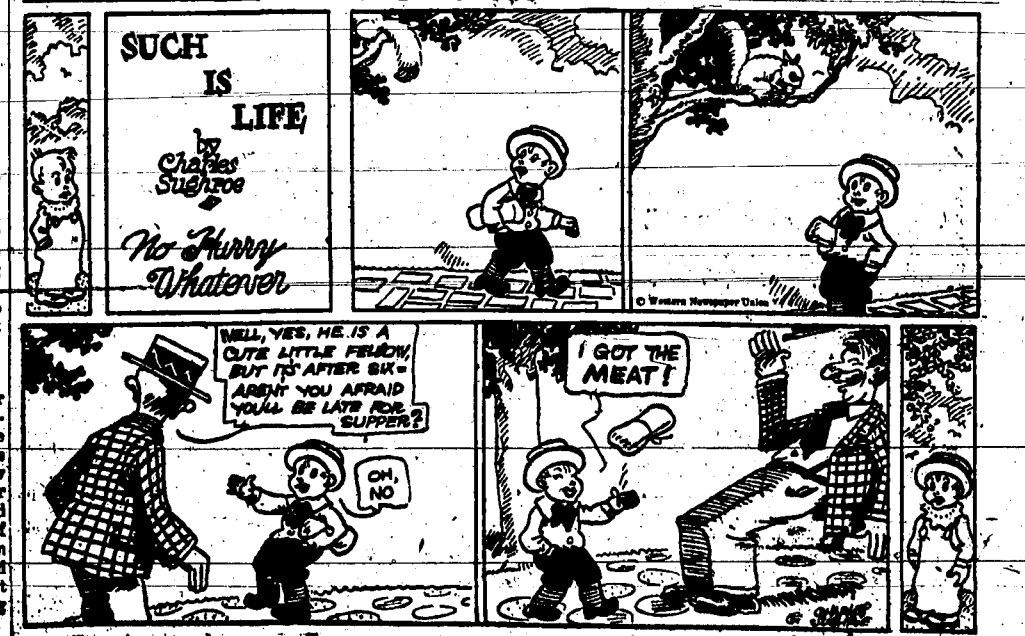

Cut the lamb in thin slices and serve it on a bed of cool crisp watercress. Garnish with slices of cucumber, stuffed olives, and radish roses. Cubes of mint jelly will add to the ness of this attractive platter. Arrange slices of corned beef—you will find the canned variety good for this purpose—between rows of sliced beets, which have been dipped in finely minced parsley. At each end of the platter put a cupped lettuce leaf, filled with Tartar sauce.

Slices of cold tongue may be alternated with slices of ripe tomatoes and slices of green pepper filled with creamed cheese.

Place a mound of potato salad in the center of a round serving dish. Mark off sections of the mound with thin strips of the white of the hard-cooked eggs, cut lengthwise, and sprinkle alternate sections with the yolk of the eggs, put through a sieve. The other sections decorate with finely chopped beets. Place thin slices of cold roast pork around the base of the mound.

To give added flavor and color to sliced cold roast beef, serve it with lettuce cups filled with parsley and finely diced spiced beets.

These basic facts should be borne in mind by everyone considering the purchase of an inexpensive haulage unit—in these days, when business men are watching transportation costs.

Many important features of the Chevrolet Six-Cylinder Truck are given below. Study them. Use them as a basis of comparison—to prove quality—modern design—and EXTRA VALUE!

TO IMPROVE HUNTING CONDITIONS

Better pheasant hunting next fall, and better feeding conditions for these birds next winter will result if patches or strips of weeds, brush, clover, alfalfa or grain are left uncut, especially along fences and at swamp borders, according to Dr. Miles D. Pirnie, ornithologist of the Game Division of the Department of Conservation.

Pheasants are attracted by the grain and corn fields, and hunters on lands where such feed patches occur will have less reason to complain that the birds have moved off to the feed patches and cover on neighboring farms.

Buckwheat, corn or wheat, left uncut at harvest time greatly simplifies the winter feeding problem and practically guarantees that the birds will not starve.

Several farmers have reported that they have been well repaid for leaving patches of buckwheat and other grains for the birds, also plantings of elderberry, dogwood, willows, thornapples, etc., either in clumps or along fences will greatly improve cover conditions and favor increased numbers of birds.

The Game Division reports that in many instances the improvement of food and cover conditions has brought more lasting results than would have come from releasing more birds and failing to give consideration to cover and food regulations.

Dr. Pirnie points out that now is the time to plan for cover and feed patches, not only to help the birds in winter, but to improve hunting conditions this fall.

It is really surprising how the new tariff law has cut down commodity prices and caused depression all over the world, but cheaper living is not what the opposition to the new law promised us under the increased tariff.

DUTCH FAMILY TOUR WORLD IN CHEVROLET

The clomp-clomp of wooden shoes mingled with the purr of multiple cylinders during the recent visit here, at Chevrolet Motor company headquarters, of Jan Hoppe with his wife and two small children, natives of the Netherlands now on a globe-circling tour.

The Hoppe family presented a strange picture of contrasts. Where all the world's style-conscious, the Hoppes are traveling in a four-year-old car and are dressed in native costume, even to wooden shoes and the peaked white turban of the wife and daughter. And while aviators are planning to lower the record for round-the-world trips, the Hoppe family expect to spend five years on the tour.

The small island of Marken, in the Zuider Zee, was the Hoppe home until last December. They came first to America, landing at Florida, and there purchased a 1926 Chevrolet sedan to use in seeing America. Despite a combined luggage and passenger weight of nearly a ton, the four-year old car brought them out to Detroit without mishap, where one of Mr. Hoppe's first concerns was to have Chevrolet service experts check the car to determine whether it could be relied upon to give satisfactory service during the two years they plan to spend in America. When a check revealed the car in satisfactory shape, Mr. Hoppe decided to acquire a trailer for the luggage and proceed with the car on his journey.

In answer to skeptics, who doubted his ability to drive with wooden shoes, Mr. Hoppe climbed into the car, and drove it over the curb onto the sidewalk in front of the Chevrolet offices with the skill of a veteran at the wheel.

The Hoppes plan partially to work their way around the world. He sings over the radio, Mrs. Hoppe sells novelties, the children, Hans and Grete, have been having the time of their lives.

Mr. Hoppe states that if the children show any ill-effects of the trip, he will immediately pull it off and return to his home. So far, except for quarantine for diphtheria last winter, the children, Hans and Grete, have been having the time of their lives.

WHAT WE SAW AT CAMP GRAYLING—AND ELSEWHERE

Me and a friend went out to the camp, some three or four miles from town, to see the five thousand soldier boys dressed in suits of khaki brown. For in the stream, paddling due north, was a wild duck and duckling. We just went out to have a good time, and see all that we could see. A relaxation after hard work—could hardly call it a "grip."

About half way out as we crossed a bridge, I heard my friend a-shuddering. For in the stream, paddling due north, was a wild duck and her duckling. Then we hurried on toward the camp, but as fast as we could go. We wanted to see some more "wild life"—and thought we might miss the show.

But before we reached the boundary line where the watchful sentry stood, we turned off at the "Music Box" site, down through the shaded woods. And here on the shores of Lake Margrethe, Adam's sons and Eve's daughters were "sunning" (1) themselves on the white sand, or bathing in its cool waters.

To me there seemed in Eve's daughters' togs, of fabric to be a lack. But my wise young friend enlightened me—said that was the new "sun-bath."

Then I looked up to see the sun, but I seemed no sun to see, but 't'was the lake the "man-in-the-moon" was a-peekin' down in glee.

Then into camp we carefully drove, traffic my friend's skill taxing. As toward us with horns, bugles and drums, marched some rookies "relaxing."

Some were in bath suits, some B. V. D.'s with robes their tanned limbs to hide—

They danced and danced, cake-walked and snake-walked, to the tune "Here Comes the Bride."

Further on we saw curly men trying out their steady paces—Some of the equines looked good enough—but not built for the races. One horse over the barrier went as though he were raised by a jack. Others "galloped" up to the hurdle, stopped short, turned tail and ran back. One man leaped from the ground to his horse, you've seen it—a la Tom Mix.

The beast soon sent him earthward again—it was not used to these tricks. When he picked himself up from the sod, what he said better not tell. But it sounded like this—on know, about "war is hell."

We saw men sparring and wrestling, and some playing "barney go!" While others were busily undressing for a lake-plunge to cool off. Then we turned up a road to the hill, not thinking that we were wrong—A rookie with uplit hand said, "Can't go there unless belong."

Didn't say if we "belonged" to what—wanted to "kid" him in fun. But down hill came a sentry alert, and he was armed with a gun.

So we turned then around pretty quick, and went out to the fire tow'r, yet we didn't see even the smoke, though we stayed up half an hour. We went back by a different road—friend said we were short of gas—And were stopped by a sign in the way, reading, "DANGER—DO NOT

"Rifle and Artillery Fire Today"—well, we soon got out of that. Real glad that the trail inclined downward, rather than uphill or flat. It was getting some dark by this time—the pine trees threw shadows queer. And then right in the roadway we saw, a full-grown white-tailed doe deer. It was the first wild deer I had seen (though have seen "deers" that were Unfrightened, it stood gazing at us, with big eyes so soft and mild.

We finally got back to the camp, somewhere near Officers' Club. And could look down the bank to the ring—two boxers were having a rub. We didn't go to the Governor's Ball, because we had no "invite."

But saw the Governor inside the ropes where the soldier boxers fight. He was well received by the mixed crowd, his words well-chosen, but few. Then he told of this joke on himself, and we pass it on to you.

The governor was in Kalamazoo—city of celery fame—And while at the State asylum there, an inmate did ask his name.

"My name is Green," said the governor, "surname Green—given name Fred." "O, your name is Green?" said the inmate as he slowly scratched his head.

Then he asked, "What do you do, Mr. Green?" as he again rubbed his pate. "Why, I'm the governor," said Mr. Green, "governor of the whole state."

"So you're the governor of Michigan," said the inmate with a grin. "Shake hands, Governor, we should be pals—I was Cal. Coolidge when I came in."

Then two featherweights stepped in, each cheered by his own boosters. And they chased each other round the ring, just like two bantam roosters. Next two heavier weights did appear, and sure one was hitting fine.

The other lay down to rest each round, till the referee counted nine. Then two welter-weights put on the mitts, and they did mix things some. And while it was business to them, for the crowd it was great fun.

Guess it was, perhaps, as good a bout, as most of them ever saw. And if our memory serves us right, the referee called it "Draw."

Thought then 'twas time to be going home—we had seen all to be seen. When friend pointed out a well-lit place, with the whispered word "Canteen."

Well, we got some ice cream cones and pop—I thought that was going some. Then my young friend said that he wanted a package of spearmint gum.

Suppose he wanted the gum, but he wanted a package of spearmint gum. But I put my foot right down on that, and I told him "No sir-ee."

"We've already had six ice cream cones, also four bottles of pop—Your hot young blood may crave something more, but me—I know when to stop."

So I took him where the car was parked down near the edge of the wood. And shoved him in and said to him, "Let's go while the going's good."

Perhaps I was somewhat rough with him, and maybe a little harsh. But the way those cones went to his head, I was 'traid of the Provo, Marsh.

He threw her in gear and gave her gas, and we started back a-flyin'. But he got to the cross road, my friend he was a-cryin'.

So then I lived him up a bit, and to dry his tearful eyes, I gave him a paper, with a scare head "KIDNAPPING" or "ABDUCTION"—when the lady of the house happened to make a trip to the back lawn, and there, ensconced in a big easy chair, almost out of sight, enfolded in the arms of Morpheus, and dreaming of other things than kidnappings, sheriffs and State police, was the young lady who had caused all the excitement—so to mention another of Bill's comedies—"ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

—but it is expecting a lot to ask a printer to keep his attention strictly on his work when a couple of "chere femmes" in abbreviated bathing suits and corsets select the office back yard as a place for an airing, as was the case during a busy hour in the pressroom last Thursday.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

No, the writer is not referring to Shakespeare's comedy—but to an incident which caused a flutter of excitement at a home a couple of blocks from town, a short time ago on a busy Saturday night. A young lady roomer went down to the postoffice to mail a letter, and the house being crowded that night, no one noticed her apparent non-return until near the hour for retiring, when her absence was noted, and none remember seeing her since she went to the postoffice. A hurried search was made without results. Then a member of the company was delegated to go down town and look for her. Upon returning with report of inability to find any trace of the missing lady, the "two-gun" sheriff and the State police were notified—and it began to look like a front page chapter in the newspaper, with a scare head "KIDNAPPING" or "ABDUCTION"—when the lady of the house happened to make a trip to the back lawn, and there, ensconced in a big easy chair, almost out of sight, enfolded in the arms of Morpheus, and dreaming of other things than kidnappings, sheriffs and State police, was the young lady who had caused all the excitement—so to mention another of Bill's comedies—"ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

CHILDREN SAVED BY TOXIN ANTI-TOXIN

The medical profession knows a great deal about diphtheria, enough to make it so rare that it should scarcely be known or heard of. Yet diphtheria kills annually thousands of children, mostly under the age of five years. Children are mangled daily by possible illness, crippling and death, due to diphtheria. This horrifying situation exists. Some parents are unaware of the preventive medicine—Toxin Anti-toxin, some are indifferent. This number is decreasing steadily, but diphtheria still claims a large number of our little ones.

Every father and mother should know that every sore throat and croupy cough are to be suspected of being diphtheria, unless proven otherwise by a throat culture. No parent should breathe a sigh of relief unless he has taken advantage of the weapon that protects children against this threat. To be made safe take advantage of Toxin Anti-Toxin.

One Little Ad Brings $10,000 To East Michigan!

We get lots of letters from people who have read our advertising and have come to East Michigan because of it to spend days, weeks, or months and many tourist dollars here. But read this one:

Tamarack Cabin, Hubbard Lake, Mich. East Michigan Tourist Association, Bay City, Michigan. Gentlemen:

I have seen an ornamental map issued by your association, with various legends, historical, and of current information, that we should like to have above our fireplace, and would greatly appreciate your kindness if you could send us one.

It may be of interest to you to know that we are summer residents in Eastern Michigan directly through the advertising of your association. Our home is Washington, Pennsylvania, and about 10 years ago we were considering the Kewartha Lake region in Canada for our summers when we happened to see a small advertisement of your association in a magazine. We sent for literature and came to Lake Umbagog for several years, and then bought frontage and built our summer home here. So that little ad has brought at least $10,000 of Pennsylvania money to Michigan from our family.

Thanks very much for the map. We shall frame that letter, so that all who run may read!

New York Central President Thinks East Michigan Wonderful

Patrick E. Crowley of New York City, president of the New York Central railroad, thinks East Michigan is "wonderful, gorgeous." His own words when he was interviewed in Cheboygan a few days ago by Stanley Brame, publicity writer of the East Michigan Water Carnival.

Crowley took a two days' tour of this region, from Detroit to Mackinac Island and Mackinac Island last week, and fished off the dock at Cheboygan. He is famous not only as a great railroad president, but as having risen to that eminence from messenger boy.

Floyd Gibbons Advertises For Us

Floyd Gibbons, famous war correspondent—now famous with his news events radio talks for Literary Digest, says what he thinks without quibble. A few evenings ago listeners throughout this region were delighted to hear him, in his short, forceful phraseology, when he broadcast the statement that so far as he knew there were now two cool places to be—and one of them was Northern Michigan. We promptly forgot what the other one was.

Smith, The Leather Goods Man Dresses His Window

Smith, The Leather Goods man of Bay City, has set a bright example of how to pep up business in July and August. His window showing handsome luggage and traveling accessories is now decorated lavishly with folders, booklets, maps, pen-nants, of the East Michigan Tourist Association, as well as some of our road signs, and pointed suggestions on where to spend the most delightful vacation. Any others?

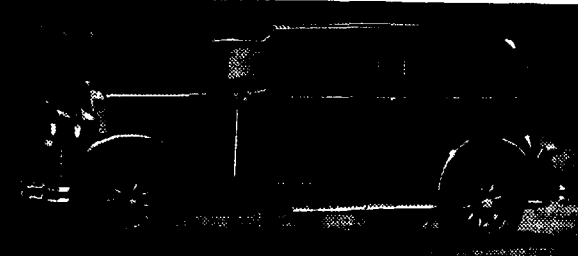

July, "Motour" Carries E.M.T.A. Invitation

The July issue of the "Motour", automobile club magazine of Cincinnati, carries a cut made from our picture of the bathing beauty who is wearing a "Come to East Michigan, Write the Log Office" placard for bathing suit. We expect a heavier mail from Ohio now, though it has been astonishingly heavy already this season.

August "Motourist" Uses Mackinac Story

The August issue of the "Butler County Motourist" will soon be off the press with our article about Mackinac Island as a vacation paradise. And by the way, the Flint Saturday Night published our Log Office Column on the same subject, in a recent number. The ball rolls and grows.

Buick Presents Straight Eights

A synchro-mesh transmission and a valve-in-head straight eight engine are the outstanding features of the 1931 Buick line. The Two-Door Sedan, one of twenty new models, is shown above.

Exalting the interest of the motoring world and arousing a widespread comment of approval, the new 1931 Buick line powered with straight eight valve-in-head motors was presented on Saturday, July 26. Offered in four new series, the 1931 Buick Eight holds many surprises for showroom visitors.

In addition to its advanced straight eight valve-in-head power plant, the new car also has a synchro-mesh transmission, new insulated body by Fisher, and many other important advances which, according to E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor Company, make the new eight the outstanding car of the company's history.

Many refinements have been incorporated in the beautiful new Fisher body, and changes in construction have been employed to strengthen it structurally and eliminate any possibility of noise or rumble from the engine. The driving compartment in all models has been completely insulated. No radical changes have been made in the general appearance of the new bodies, but a wealth of fine details and new appointments have been embodied to increase the luxurious riding comfort of the new Buick Eight.

Among the engineering advancements on the new Buick Eight, in addition to the synchro-mesh transmission, are an engine oil-temperature regulator, dual carburetion, combined intake silencer and air cleaner, new crankcase ventilating system, improved steering gear, one-piece rear axle housing, new clutches and four-point rubber insulated engine mountings.

The new line is offered in twenty models, divided into four different wheelbase lengths. The six models in the 5-30 series are carried on a 114-inch wheelbase and powered with an eight-in-line overhead-valve motor, which has a bore and stroke of 3 1/2 x 4 1/4 inches. This motor is rated at 75 horsepower and produces a speed of 75 miles per hour.

In the 5-30 series five models are offered on a 116-inch wheelbase. The motor used in this series has a bore and stroke of 3 1/2 x 4 1/4 inches, developing 80 horsepower and a speed of 80 miles per hour.

In the 5-30 and 5-30 series a motor having a bore and stroke of 3 1/2 x 5 inches drives the car at a speed of 20 miles per hour, with a 104 rated horsepower. Two models are presented on a 124-inch wheelbase and the 5-30 series on a 128-inch wheelbase is composed of seven models.

The new Buick Eight produces a new sensation in driving; there is no apparent change in smoothness, noise or vibration from low to high speeds, and the car can be driven with great ease, comfort and safety.

Slant operation, due to improvements made in the overhead valve mechanism—the use of the synchro-mesh transmission, and the insulation of the body, is one of the outstanding features of the new Buick Eight.
